

Lock In on Lockout

Lockout Tagout Authorized Employee Training

Because your employees are required to go through such a wide variety of safety training, it can be hard to keep them continually engaged. Not to mention that a cookie-cutter safety training program doesn't provide your operators and maintenance team with the site-specific information they need for their everyday responsibilities.

That's where we come in. Let us help you refresh your lockout tagout safety training and re-engage your employees. Our training is custom-developed using your lockout program with sessions that help create better awareness and participation among your employees, encouraging them to take the items they learned in training and apply them on your shop floor.

Process

- Our safety professionals review your lockout tagout program and then develop your custom training program prior to coming on-site
- While on-site, our professionals can lead up to two classroom sessions per day, depending on your needs
- Once the session is complete, you receive your certificate of completion and custom training materials to sustain ongoing training requirements
- Training includes classroom and on-the-floor application, for employees to understand the use of devices and apply what was learned to your equipment

Brady also offers a Train-the-Trainer service for companies that wish to bring their training curriculum in house.

What you receive

- Documented lockout tagout training to meet OSHA requirements
- Custom training tools to sustain on-going training requirements
- Certificates of completion, rosters and / or quizzes (if requested)
- Hands-on demonstrations
