We have five basic guiding principles for quality at Brady:

- Each of us at Brady makes a personal commitment to Quality.
- We will provide products and services that consistently meet or exceed both our customer’s expectation and our performance claims.
- We will provide education, training, and tools for employees to enable them to accomplish their job responsibilities.
- We will continuously improve our processes to increase product consistency, increase product yield, reduce lead time and reduce cost.
- We will work with our suppliers to consistently provide good quality materials.
